

What was beneficial in this project

Regarding the project that we are currently working on. I like the fact that we are gaining more practical knowledge in the software development process at different stage of a software specially regarding architecture and design or even testing of a project

How it could be improved

How will be better if we apply this in a real-world project for example when we develop a real application or any type of software